THE MID-CON

After celebrating its 20th anniversary a year ago, the Mid-Continent Conference heads into its third decade in the 2002-03 school year. Established in 1982 as the Association of Mid-Continent Universities (AMCU), the Mid-Con has solidified its reputation in the world of intercollegiate athletics as a nationally competitive and well respected league.

The Mid-Con's member schools - Centenary College (Beginning competition in the fall of 2003), Chicago State University, IUPUI (Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis), UMKC (University of Missouri-Kansas City), Oakland University, Oral Roberts University, Southern Utah University, Valparaiso University and Western Illinois University - are located primarily in the Midwest's top urban areas, and pride themselves on providing quality athletic, academic and social experiences for their student-athletes.

The Mid-Con was founded in 1982, when eight universities banded together to form an NCAA Division I conference. Under the direction of the league's first commissioner, F.L. "Frosty" Ferzacca, the AMCU-8 and its members sponsored nine championship sports in that first season. The league's initial lineup included Cleveland State, Eastern Illinois, Illinois-Chicago, Northern Iowa, Southwest Missouri State, Valparaiso, Western Illinois and Wisconsin-Green Bay.

The league's first ten years saw a variety of highlights, including a name change to the now familiar Mid-Continent Conference in 1990. The AMCU first received national attention in 1986, when Cleveland State used its 27-3 record to earn an at-large invitation to the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament. The Vikings put the Conference on the map with a stunning 83-79 upset of No. 3 seed Indiana, on their way to a "Sweet 16" appearance.

The league saw a change in leadership in 1988, when Ferzacca stepped down as the AMCU-8 commissioner. Jerry Ippoliti took over the reins, and guided the Conference into its second decade. Two years after Ippoliti took over, the league sent three members to men's basketball postseason play in 1990.

In 1992, the Mid-Con celebrated its 10-year anniversary, and did so in part by announcing the debut of six women's championship sports. The league withstood a major change in membership following the 1993-94 season, when six schools - including founding members Cleveland State, Illinois-Chicago and UW-Green Bay - departed. Their absence made room for six other institutions to join the Mid-Con, including current members Chicago State and UMKC.

Over the past few years, the Mid-Con has taken on a new look behind Commissioner Dr. Jon Steinbrecher, who took over the league's top post in 1994. Four new members have joined since 1997 - Oral Roberts and Southern Utah both came on board in 1997, while IUPUI and Oakland joined the following year.

The 1997-98 basketball season ended up providing the Mid-Con with some of the most memorable moments in league history. Former member Youngstown State gave the Mid-Con its first-ever win in the NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament when it upset No. 5 seed Memphis by a 91-80 score. However, it was a well-designed out-of-bounds play and some last-second heroics by a Valparaiso senior that epitomized "March Madness" for the year.

Valparaiso posted a one-point victory over No. 3 seed Mississippi in the first round of the 1998 NCAA Tourney, but it was no ordinary win. With just 2.5 seconds left on the clock and Valparaiso trailing by two, the Crusaders' Bryce Drew capped a set play that included a three-quarters court pass and a lateral by draining a 23-footer at the buzzer. The play not only sent Valparaiso on its way to a "Sweet 16" appearance, but also earned Drew an ESPY from ESPN.

In recent years, the league's successes have extended past the basketball court. The Mid-Con has seen many of its student-athletes continue their careers at the professional level in a variety of sports, including Drew, a member of the New Orleans Hornets, and former Wright State pitcher Brian Anderson, a member of the World Champion Arizona Diamondbacks. In addition, the Conference has boasted several Olympic athletes, including Oakland women's soccer player Anita Rapp, who won a gold medal while playing for the Norwegian women's soccer team at the 2000 Sydney Games.

Mid-Con institutions provided a variety of highlights during the 2001-02 school year. After earning its first-ever NCAA Men's Soccer Tournament appearance, UMKC posted a first-round upset over Wisconsin-Milwaukee, 2-1 in overtime. Rapp earned region Player of the Year honors for Oakland, and nearly led her team to an upset of Cincinnati in the first round of the NCAA Women's Soccer Tournament. On the hardwood, both the men (Valparaiso's Lubos Barton) and women (Oakland's Sarah Judd and Oral Roberts' Krista Ragan) had representation on All-America teams. In addition, the Valparaiso women's basketball team posted the biggest turnaround in NCAA Division I basketball in 2001-02, reaching the WNIT quarterfinals.

Mid-Con highlights did not stop as the spring rolled around. The Oral Roberts baseball team made its fifth straight NCAA Tournament appearance, and knocked off top seed and regional host Wichita State twice before bowing in the regional final. The Oakland softball team earned a victory in its first-ever NCAA Softball Tournament appearance, topping Canisius by a 3-1 score. Western Illinois' Amber Crumbo qualified for both the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Track and Field Championships, while UMKC's Matt Voelker earned All-America honors in the Outdoor Championship by tying for sixth in the high jump. Oral Roberts swept the Mid-Con All Sports Awards for the second straight season, and won its fourth Commissioner's Cup in five years.

The Mid-Con sponsors 19 championship sports, which includes: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming & diving, men's and women's indoor track & field, men's and women's outdoor track & field, men's and women's tennis, and volleyball.

SHREVEPORT-BOSSIER CITY

Centenary College is located two miles from downtown Shreveport, the third largest city in the state of Louisiana. Shreveport is located on the west bank of the Red River in Northwest Louisiana. Over 300,000 people reside in the metropolitan Shreveport area.

Shreveport is considered the geographical, cultural, and economic center of the region known as the Ark-La-Tex, encompassing East Texas, Northern Louisiana, and Southern Arkansas. Shreveport is only a few hours away by car from other major cities such as Dallas and Houston in Texas, Baton Rouge and New Orleans in Louisiana, Jackson, Mississippi, and Little Rock, Arkansas.

Shreveport is separated from Bossier City by the Red River, but many locals consider themselves residents of the Shreveport-Bossier region as a whole instead of one of the specific cities. People who live here think nothing of crossing the river to take in an event, no matter which city is the official host.

There seems to always be a festival going on that shines a spotlight on some aspect of life in Shreveport-Bossier that is unique. In May, the Mudbug Madness Festival celebrates the abundance of crawfish found in the area, while African-American culture is celebrated in June with the Good Times Roll Festival, featuring music, art and food.

One of the major highlights of the year in Shreveport is the State Fair of Louisiana, held every October. The fair features more than 70 rides and one of the finest livestock gatherings in the United States.

Another major event that showcases Shreveport on a national level is the Mainstay Independence Bowl, held in late December. The annual football game, featuring a team from the Big 12 Conference against one from the Southeastern Conference, is carried on national television and showcases the Shreveport-Bossier community coming together to make the event a success.

That is not the only athletic competition held in the area. The CenturyTel Center, a 12,000-seat arena opened in 2000, is the home of minor league hockey and arena football, as well as basketball games and wrestling events. National fishing tournaments and golf tournaments have also been brought to Shreveport-Bossier in recent years.

The area features a wide range of museums, from autos and aviation to science and Elvis Presley. Many of the buildings in downtown Shreveport are now listed on the National Register of Historic Places, and a trip to the piney woods of Northwest Louisiana will yield visits to rural towns such as Vivian, Plain Dealing and Shongaloo, each one with its own collection of treasures, history, and fine dining.

There are plenty of outdoor activities in the Shreveport-Bossier area. From hiking at the Cypress Black Bayou Recreational Area to golfing at Olde Oaks Golf Club, a Hal Sutton signature course and part of the Audubon Golf Trail, there is something for everyone.

Festival Plaza near Downtown Shreveport, where many gatherings are held throughout the year, such as the Mudbug Madness Festival and the Red River Revel.

THE COLLEGE

Centenary College of Louisiana is a selective liberal arts college offering undergraduate programs in the arts, humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences, as well as a limited number of graduate programs. Students and faculty work together to sustain a community focused on ethical and intellectual development, respect and concern for human and spiritual values, and the joy of creativity and discovery. Consistent with its affiliation with the United Methodist Church, the College encourages a lifelong dedication not only to learning but also to serving others.

In pursuit of these ideals, the College challenges its students to write and speak clearly; to read, listen, and think critically; to comprehend, interpret, and synthesize ideas; to analyze information qualitatively and quantitatively; to appreciate the diversity of human cultures; to respect the value of artistic expression; to realize the importance of a healthy mind and body; and to recognize the interdependence of people and the environment.

Academic Program

Centenary College of Louisiana offers three undergraduate degree programs: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Music.

The Centenary curriculum aims to produce graduates of extraordinary intellectual and vocational versatility who are prepared to assume responsible positions in their communities and professions. The College prepares its students in critical thinking and in the fundamental communication skills of writing, speaking and numeracy.

The core curriculum begins with the First-Year Experience, which initiates an emphasis on critical thinking and rhetorical skills in an interdisciplinary context. The balance of the core curriculum further develops these skills while it introduces students to basic areas and fundamental techniques of human inquiry. Specific core requirements are the First-Year Experience and selected courses offering inquiry in the humanities, mathematics, natural sciences, and social sciences. Additionally, all undergraduates participate in the Centenary Plan, which involves a service-learning project, career exploration, and an intercultural experience.

Academic Facilities

Centenary has a personal computer for one of every three undergraduates. Every residence hall room is wired for free, direct Internet and computer connections. Some 30 computer laboratories are spread throughout campus, as are numerous multimedia editing and projection facilities. The Magale Library, the academic heart of the campus, has a wealth of volumes, searchable databases, personal computers, multi-media accessories, and software programs.

Specially equipped buildings and facilities include the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse, the Gold Dome, the Fitness Center and Swimming Pool, Mickle Hall of Science, Hurley Music Building, Jackson Hall, Turner Art Center, and the Meadows Museum of Art.

Faculty

More than 90 percent of Centenary's faculty hold the highest degree in their disciplines. There are 74 full-time and 41 part-time faculty members, with a student-faculty ratio of 12 to 1. There are no graduate students teaching classes at Centenary. The primary emphasis is on teaching, although research and service activities are also important components of the Centenary experience. These activities involve undergraduates to an extent unavailable at large institutions.

Summary

Academic and co-curricular programs support students in their development and encourage them to become leaders in the work place, the community, the nation, and the world at large.

CENTENARY ATHLETICS

Centenary College of Louisiana has fielded an athletic team in at least one sport since 1894, when the football team faced Louisiana State University. Centenary's football squad was one of the best in the South in the first half of the 20th century, the high point being an undefeated 10-0 season in 1927.

Centenary produced professionals Conway Baker, Buddy Parker, and Cal Hubbard. Hubbard is a member of three halls of fame: Pro Football Hall of Fame, College Football Hall of Fame, and Baseball Hall of Fame. However, the poor oil economy in the area forced the discontinuation of the football program in 1947.

The 1920s saw the establishment of the men's basketball and baseball teams at Centenary. The basketball Gents have had 43 seasons with a .500 or better winning percentage, including the 2001-2002 campaign.

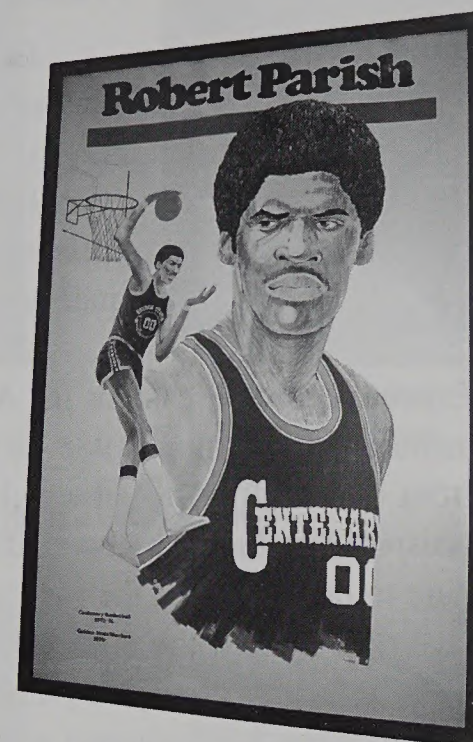

Hal Sutton '81

From 1972 to 1976, Robert Parish dominated Centenary's opponents, leading the Gents to an 87-21 record over that span. Parish still holds numerous Centenary records, including the single game scoring record (50 points vs. Lamar in 1972), the single season rebounding record (18.7 rpg in 1972-73), and the career record for most field goals made (1,034). Parish was drafted in the first round by the Golden State Warriors in 1976 and later, as part of arguably the greatest frontcourt in NBA history, won three NBA championships with the Boston Celtics in the 1980s.

With a new 1,000-seat stadium, the baseball team is attracting top players to play for Centenary and top teams to play against the Gents. Thirty players who put on the Centenary uniform have gone on to play professionally. In recent years, the Gents have hosted Nebraska, Texas A&M, and Kansas at Shehee Stadium, with Michigan State, Alabama, and San Jose State among those teams scheduled to visit Shreveport in 2003.

In 1980 the Golf Magazine College Player of the Year did not come from a traditional power. Hal Sutton, a native of Shreveport who stayed home to attend Centenary, won that honor as well as the 1980 U.S. Amateur. Sutton has gone on to win two Players Championships, a PGA Championship, and a Tour Championship, as well as earn a spot on four U.S. Ryder Cup teams.

Recently Centenary athletes have found their names at or near the top of the NCAA rankings. In 2000, women's soccer player Lara Brown led all Division I players in points per game and goals per game. Ronnie McCollum followed suit during the 2000-2001 basketball season, leading the nation in scoring. Andrew Wisniewski picked up where McCollum left off, finishing in the top 30 in assists and the top 50 in scoring during the 2001-2002 season.

With the addition of men's and women's swimming in 2002-2003, Centenary now sponsors 18 intercollegiate sports, more than any other Division I program in Northern Louisiana. The gymnastics team consistently qualifies for the USAG National Championships, the women's soccer team has won over 65 percent of their matches in the 10-year history of the program, and, most importantly, Centenary's athletes graduate, ready for the real world in whatever field they choose.

ADMINISTRATION

DR. KENNETH L. SCHWAB

President

Dr. Kenneth L. Schwab, an award-winning educator with a keen interest in leadership and strategic planning, was appointed Centenary College's 34th President, August 7, 1991.

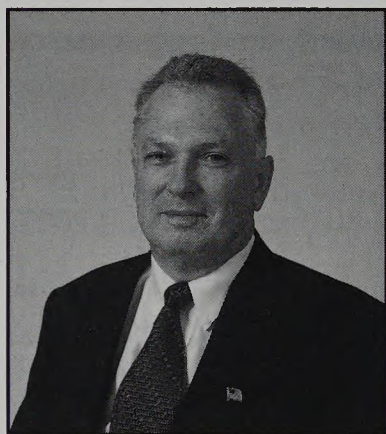

His efforts to maintain Centenary's reputation as one of the premier liberal arts colleges in the nation has resulted in enhanced student life and increased academic quality during his tenure.

Dr. Schwab came to Centenary from the University of South Carolina where he was Executive Vice President for Administration (1988-91) after serving as Executive Assistant to the President for Institutional Planning (1986-88).

From 1970-1986, Dr. Schwab held administrative positions at Guilford College in Greensboro, NC. He was the Assistant Dean of Students and Director of Residential Operations (1970-74), Dean of Students (1974-80) and Assistant to the President for Institutional Planning and Community Relations (1980-86).

Dr. Schwab holds the doctor of education degree (1978) from Indiana University, master of education degree (1972) from the University of North Carolina-Greensboro and the bachelor of science degree (1969) from Purdue University, where he graduated with honors as the 1969 Outstanding Senior. He has done post-graduate studies at both Johns Hopkins University and Harvard.

Dr. Schwab and his wife, Patricia, who also has a doctorate in education, are the parents of three sons: Kempton, Carlton, and Christopher.

DR. DAVID BEDARD

Director of Athletics

Dr. David Bedard has served as the athletic director for Centenary College since 1999. In his time at the helm, the college has seen significant improvements in athletic facilities and relations between the athletics department and the public.

Even though he was somewhat new to the AD position when taking over, Bedard was a familiar face in the athletic offices of Centenary, having been a professor in the health and exercise science department for more than 18 years. He begins his fourth year as the athletic director having moved Centenary into the Mid-Continent Conference after being independent for three years. The Gents and Ladies will begin competition in the Mid-Con in the fall of 2003.

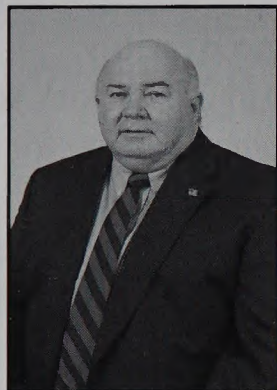

In the time that Bedard has been AD, Centenary has added a new baseball facility (W. Peyton Shehee Stadium), new scorer's tables and chairs for the basketball and volleyball teams, grandstand seating for the softball team, lights for the soccer field, and a concession stand for baseball, softball, and soccer.

In addition to the improvements for the athletic teams, there have been some major renovations that have improved the entire athletic department. These upgrades include a new Gold Dome roof, the creation of a new Ladies and Gents Club reception area, and the new Wilhite Media Room.

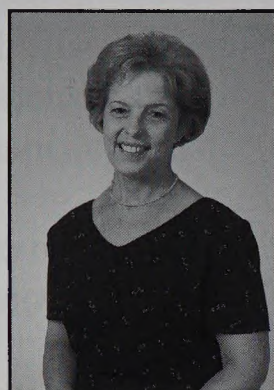

Bedard understands and can empathize with the student-athletes and coaches under his administration, having been both a student-athlete and a coach at Northwestern State University in Natchitoches, La. He was a three-time All-American gymnast and a gymnastics coach before moving on to get his doctorate in college teaching of health and physical education from Texas A&M University in Commerce.

Bedard is married to the former Carol Grant. They have two children: Emily and Julie.

The Centenary College sports medicine facility is located on the bottom floor of the Gold Dome, where continued improvements have resulted in an enhanced facility.

The improvements include an upgraded computer system with injury tracking software, the addition of two stationary bicycles, and an increased storage capacity for the daily supplies used in treatments of student-athletes.

The training room is equipped with modalities to assist athletic trainers in the treatment of injuries of Centenary athletes. The room also contains training tables, an ice machine, and a whirlpool.

Alan Edwards begins his eighth year as head athletic trainer for the Centenary athletic program. Edwards is a 1991 graduate of McNeese State University with a bachelor of science in health and physical education. He earned his master's degree in exercise science at Northeast Louisiana University in 1993. Edwards' services are provided through a partnership between Centenary College and Highland Hospital.

Edwards also supervises student and volunteer assistants as they gain valuable experience in their pursuit of becoming Certified Athletic Trainers. Student and volunteer assistants obtain practical experience at home and on the road, working with the Gents and Ladies athletic teams.

HEAD COACH

DAVID WINKLER
Head Coach

On March 21, 2001, David Winkler was named the Centenary Ladies second head coach since the sport turned Division I in 1999. Winkler came to Centenary from Loyola College Preparatory, where he coached six very successful seasons while capturing a state title.

Winkler led the Ladies to a 9-19 mark in his first season at the helm in 2001-02. The nine wins was a 8.5 game turnaround from the previous season, according to the NCAA, good enough to rank Centenary as the twelfth most improved team in the nation. His fast-paced style of play allowed the Ladies more scoring opportunities, raising their scoring average by over six points from the previous season despite playing without a single senior on the squad.

During his six seasons at Loyola, Winkler produced the same results, amassing a 145-61 record while never missing the playoffs. He won four district titles and averaged 24 wins per season. In addition to his state title, Winkler coached the Flyers to three quarterfinal appearances. He also coached the Shreveport 11 and under team to the AAU National Championship game and led the Shreveport 18 and under team to the NAYB National Championship game.

Coach Winkler isn't new to coaching top-notch athletes. While at Loyola, he coached 23 All-District, seven All-City, five All-State, and two All-American players. Winkler plans to continue that tradition by bringing superior athletes to Centenary.

"Shreveport has a wonderful tradition in women's basketball and an outstanding reputation for producing great players," said Winkler. "We don't have to look very far for the kind of athletes we would like to build our program with."

The move to Centenary was a homecoming for Winkler, who graduated from Centenary in 1995 with a bachelor of science degree in sociology.

SEASON OUTLOOK

CENTENARY LADIES 2002-03 PREVIEW

The Centenary Ladies are excited about the 2002-03 season after coming off a year in which the team finished with an 8.5 game turnaround over the 2000-01 campaign. The team mark of 9-19 ranked the Ladies as the 12th most improved team in the NCAA last year. Coach Winkler liked the effort and growth he saw out of his first year program, but is quick to point out that this season should be even better.

"There are so many differences between this year's squad and last year's," said Winkler. "With the additions of our new recruits and players we had lost to injuries, we now have solid post players, depth at the point guard position, and we are at least two-deep at every spot on the floor."

The amount of bodies on the court is not the only advantage this season's Ladies have over last year's squad.

"We have much more experience than we've had in the past. We had nine underclassmen and only two upperclassmen (2 juniors) last year, but now we have six upperclassmen and all the returning players know my system well," stated Winkler.

With his new personnel in place, Coach Winkler has noticed a change in the personality of his team and has adjusted things accordingly.

"Last year the focus was on pushing the ball offensively. This season the emphasis will be on defense. Shot blocking and rebounding will be key assets to defending the paint and our perimeter players will know they have some help down low," added Winkler.

Another key advantage this team has over those in the past is versatility. The Ladies will benefit from being able to play various line-ups and different combinations of players together. Centenary will sport a three-guard, two-post line-up as well as a three-post, two-guard variety throughout the season.

Offensively, the Ladies featured an up-tempo style of play last season, but Coach Winkler plans to slow it down a bit this year and take advantage of his size inside.

"We still like to run, but that's not our identity. We'll run when the opportunity is there, but it won't be our focal point this year," said Winkler.

On the schedule, Centenary will play 13 home dates and 15 road contests while visiting both the East and West Coasts. The Ladies will match up with top-ranked Louisiana Tech and could face Big 12 power Iowa State in a second round game in the Cyclone Classic. Area schools that will visit the Gold Dome include McNeese State, Louisiana-Monroe, and Arkansas-Little Rock. Other key games pit the Ladies against Princeton, San Diego State, Cal State Fullerton, Cal-Irvine, and Southern Mississippi.

"As a whole, our schedule is more challenging than last year, but I believe we have a better team this year and the experience of the tough games will make us better overall," said Winkler.

On the court, the Ladies will look to the combination of Alexis Pettway (Rialto, CA) and Demetria Dorsey (Chicago, IL) to lead the way. Pettway led the team in scoring with 12.8 ppg and 7.7 rpg while Dorsey set a school record with 166 assists last season. Her average of 5.9 apg placed her 26th in the NCAA.

Julie Daniele (Barstow, CA) will begin the season as the starter at the shooting guard position after finishing as the third leading scorer last year with 10 ppg. Other players that will see time in the backcourt include transfer Annie Fagundes (Merced, CA), Louise Smyth (Houston, TX), Van'esha Brabson (Corryton, TN), and Lindsey Way (Mt. Pleasant, PA).

Fagundes will add depth at point guard and has the ball handling skills needed to operate the offense even in tough presses. Way provides speed and athleticism on the wing for the Ladies. She has worked hard over the past year to return to form after a season-ending knee injury suffered in 2001.

Brabson and Smyth will swing from shooting guard to small forward often. Brabson will draw the top player on opposing teams as she has proven her superior ability to play tough defense. Smyth adds a shooting touch as the junior connected on 25 three-pointers to finish third on the team last season.

Senior Gabriela Troszka (Rybnik, Poland) and sophomore Carly Melvin (Shreveport, LA) will serve as the small forwards for Coach Winkler. Both players provide size and a shooting touch that will create problems for opposing defenses. Troszka averaged 4.1 ppg and 4.2 rpg in her debut season. Her size also allows her to move over to both the power forward and center positions. Melvin is a solid rebounder who pulled down 5.6 rpg as a freshman and has shown that she can shoot from long distance as well. She holds the record for best single-game 3-point percentage after sinking all four of her attempts against Louisiana Tech.

Pettway will man the power forward spot while Katie Nicol (Hemet, CA) expects to see a great deal of time at center. Nicol returns to the line-up after redshirting last season because of injury. Newcomers Whitney Rushing (Shreveport, CA), Mesi Gyuricza (Szolnok, Hungary), and Tameika McHenry (Strong, AR) will also contribute to the frontcourt rotation.

"I believe this team has a chance to be a quality team if we can gel and come together quickly," said Winkler. "We might really surprise some people this season."

Forward Carly Melvin battles for a rebound in a home game against Texas A&M-Corpus Christi.

LINDSAY WAY

Guard
5-8, Freshman
Mt. Pleasant, Pennsylvania
(Mt. Pleasant Area HS)

Lindsay could see a significant amount of time at the shooting guard if she is healthy. She possesses a wealth of speed that could contribute greatly to the up-tempo style of play that the Ladies feature.

Prep: Lindsay attended Mt. Pleasant Area High School where she participated in basketball as well as track and field for the Vikings. She attended the WPIAL track meet in 2000 and set school records in three different events under coach Jim Dumas. Lindsay set new marks in the 100m at 12.3 seconds, the 200m at 25 seconds, and the long jump at 17' 2 1/2". She was also a member of the National Honor Society, the Homecoming Court, and YEA.

SEASON REVIEW

CENTENARY LADIES 2001-02 REVIEW

The Centenary Ladies basketball program has come a long way in its short existence. After struggling in the initial two seasons after the program was instituted as a Division I sport in 1999, the Ladies took a giant step forward last season under new coach David Winkler. The Ladies finished with a record of 9-19, an 8.5 game turnaround from the 2000-01 season. That surge was good enough to rank Centenary as the 12th most improved team according to the NCAA.

The Ladies enjoyed individual successes last season as well. Demetria Dorsey compiled 166 assists on the season to set the Centenary record and finished the year ranked 26th in the NCAA with 5.9 apg. Alexis Pettway was named second team All-Independent, honorable mention All-Louisiana, and was selected to the Cornell Classic All-Tournament Team. Lori Tanner was also recognized as she was given the Independent Freshman-of-the-Year Award at the conclusion of the season.

The 2001-02 campaign began on a positive note for the Ladies as they blew out Wiley College, 105-54, in the season opener. The win broke a 55-game losing streak that spanned the first two seasons of the reinstated program and marked the first victory for Centenary as a Division I basketball program. Pettway scored 25 points and grabbed 14 rebounds to notch her first double of the year.

Centenary then dropped their road opener to Birmingham-Southern before rebounding to defeat Louisiana College, 68-52, and LeTourneau, 85-51, at home. The team then achieved another milestone as they traveled to Itta Bena, Miss., and pulled out a 70-64 triumph over Mississippi Valley State. The Ladies stood at 4-1 on the year and had just beaten their first Division I opponent and garnered their first road victory.

After a great start, the team struggled as they approached a tough section in the schedule. The Ladies let one get away at Jackson State, 63-51, and then proceeded to drop 11 straight contests. During the rough stretch, Centenary fell to a tough Delaware squad as well as Cornell at the Cornell Classic in Ithaca, NY. The top-ranked Louisiana Tech Lady Techsters also downed the Ladies in a sold-out Gold Dome. The game was the highest attended contest in the six years of women's basketball at Centenary.

The Ladies nearly stopped the losing slide on more than one occasion. On December 21, Centenary took Princeton to overtime before losing, 88-80, at home. The Ladies led by as much as seven points at 72-65 with 3:36 remaining before back-to-back steals by the Tigers helped close the gap. After Lori Tanner connected on a jumper to put the lead back at 74-72, Princeton took the lead on three consecutive baskets. Tanner then nailed another shot with eight seconds left to send the game into the extra period where Princeton outscored the Ladies 12-4 to take the game.

The following contest also turned out to be a nail-biter for the Ladies as Mississippi Valley State looked to avenge their earlier loss to Centenary on their home court. The Ladies again led late in the game as they took a 56-54 advantage with 1:42 left on a jumper by Van'esha Brabson. The next minute saw a flurry of missed shots by both teams before MVSU connected on a short-range jumper to go up 58-56 with eight seconds remaining. Dorsey drove the length of the court for Centenary and fired up a last second attempt that did not fall to end the game.

With the devastation of two consecutive heartbreaking losses looming over the squad, the Ladies did not give up. Centenary traveled to Texas-Pan American two weeks later and surprised the Lady Broncs, 83-79, as Julie Danieles scored 22 points. Texas A&M-Corpus Christi proved to be too much for the Ladies, 84-51, but Centenary moved forward, beating Incarnate Word at home, 66-57, and Gardner-Webb on the road, 66-65.

The Ladies would only take two of their final eight games to finish at 9-19 for the season. However, Centenary would accomplish two more important feats in their two victories.

On February 7, the Ladies outlasted Morris Brown, 81-77, in overtime. The win was the first overtime victory for Centenary and Pettway's 31 points was a record high since the program turned Division I.

Just four days later, Centenary defeated Gardner-Webb in the Gold Dome, 86-78, to earn their first season sweep of an opponent, both at home and on the road.

The Ladies enjoyed a successful season as they attained several goals in Coach Winkler's initial campaign. The team will look to improve with greater size and more experience in 2002-03 that should yield positive results.
